HURST & BLACKETT'S LIST.

ROYAL WINDSOR. By W. Hepworth

DIXON. SECOND EDITION. Vols. I. and II. 8vo. 30s.

"Royal Windsor" follows in the same lines as "Her Majesty's Tower," and aims at weaving a series of popular sketches of striking events which centre round Windsor Castle. Mr. Dixon makes every thing vivid and picturesque. Those who liked "Her Majesty's Tower" will find these volumes equally pleasant reading."—Athenaeum.

"Mr. Dixon has supplied us with a highly entertaining book. 'Royal Windsor' is eminently a popular work, bristling with anecdotes and amusing sketches of historical characters. It is carefully written, and is exceedingly pleasant reading. Not a dull page is to be found. Mr. Dixon is to be congratulated on having put so much information into so agreeable a shape."—Examiner.

"A truly fine and interesting book. It is a valuable contribution to English history: worthy of Mr. Dixon's fame, worthy of its grand subject."—Morning Post.

The THÉÂTRE FRANÇAIS in the REIGN of LOUIS XV. By A. BAILLIE COCHRANE, M.P. 1 vol. 8vo. 10s.

CONVERSATIONS with M. THIERS, M.

LODGE'S PEERAGE and BARONETAGE

for 1879. Under the special patronage of HER MAJESTY. Corrected by the Nobility. 4th Edition, with the Arms beautifully engraved. 31s. 6d. bound, gilt edges.

"This work is the most perfect and elaborate record of the living and recently deceased members of the Peerage of the Three Kingdoms as it stands at this day. It is a most useful publication. We are happy to bear testimony to the fact that scrupulous accuracy is a distinguishing feature of this book."—Times.

THE NEW NOVELS.

THE LAST OF HER LINE. By the Author

of "ST. OLAVE'S." 3 vols.

"In this charming novel we find a most interesting plot, clever delineations of character, an interest which never flags, and sentiments clothed in the most beautiful language."—Court Journal.

The GRAHAM'S OF INVERMOY. By M. C.

STIRLING, Author of "A True Man," &c. 3 vols.

LOVE LOYAL. By Mary C. Rowsell.

PAUL FABER, SURGEON. By George

MAC DONALD, LL.D., Author of "Alec Forbes," 3 vols.

"We recommend 'Paul Faber' warmly as a book of a very high order by a man of true genius."—Spectator.

"It is impossible to do justice to its lofty purpose and its rare merits in the limits of a review."—John Bull.

"A novel of interest and power. It is a work of real genius."—English Independent.

KELVERDALE. By the Earl of Desart.

3 vols.

"An amusing and readable novel."—Spectator.

"A spirited novel, pleasantly written, and full of clever pictures of the society of to-day, evidently sketched from life."—Post.

BRIAN BORU: A TRAGEDY.

By J. T. B.

"Insight, sentiment, a lively sense of beauty, are discernible in every page. ETHNE, the heroine, is a charming creation. She deserves to rank with that sweet galaxy of starlike maids among whom we discern OPHELIA and MIGNON."

WHITEHALL REVIEW.

"The first thing likely to strike the reader of 'Brian Boru' is that the Author has a quite remarkable and exceptional gift of tragic verse. We are speaking deliberately when we say that in no living writer is this quality more marked. . . . From a literary point of view the great interest of 'Brian Boru' is that the Author has got what no amount of study would be likely to give him, and lacks only that which study can easily supply."

ACADEMY.

"'Brian Boru' is undoubtedly a work of high promise. There is a depth of feeling, simplicity, and nervous force in many of the critical passages, and a reticence and self-restraint throughout, which would not have suggested a first effort. . . . There is in this play almost too much reticence and simplicity for a first attempt. We would rather see such a writer fall on the side of excess of fancy, than on that of defect. Still it is somewhat carping to complain of any poet that faults are absent from his work, which, if they had been there, might, though faults, have been omens of something better in future. And there is so much that is pure, and stately, and dramatic in the tragedy, that we cannot but hope much from its (to us) entirely unknown Author. Who J. T. B. may be we have not the smallest suspicion."

WITHIN SOUND OF THE SEA.

By the AUTHOR of "VERA," "BLUE ROSES," &amp;c.

"The book shows much of the writer's peculiar excellence. The plot is worked up to scenes of great pathos, and the characters of both hero and heroine are drawn with an exquisite refinement. There are few writers who can imagine and present a noble-minded woman with the fineness of touch and delicate good taste of the author of 'Vera.'—Athenaeum."

"Her descriptions of nature are perfect, whether they bring before us the mists of a Scotch October, a tract of Highland sea-coast, or the hues of an Arctic sky."—Full Mail Gazette.

BRAIN WORK is undoubtedly far more

exhausting than bodily labour. Great thinkers, and persons burdened with cares, have the most need of those sustaining and restorative agents so mercifully supplied in the vegetable world, which, wisely used, go far to support the powers of nature. Dr. T. LAUDER BRUNTON says in the Contemporary Review—"The late Lord DERBY, when translating Homer, was accustomed to eat BRANDIED CHERRIES;" and Dr. ALBERT J. BENNAYS says:—"If I come home after any worry I shall never hesitate to set myself right by taking my favorite and perfect remedy, five or six Brandied Cherries. In three or four minutes I find myself wonderfully soothed and quieted, and I have never experienced any ill effects." The essence and virtue of the Morella Cherry in a concentrated form, combined with the finest Cognac, is now to be found in that well-known and delicious Liqueur, "GRANT'S MORELLA CHERRY BRANDY," which, taken alone or with water, produces in a greatly increased degree all those good effects above described. The Liqueur may be procured through any Wine Merchant, at all Bars and Restaurants, and of the Manufacturer, THOMAS GRANT, Distiller, Maidstone.

BY-WAYS. By MARY W. PAXTON. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

John Bull.—"A capital novel, thoroughly readable from beginning to end, and likely to be a general favourite."

Scotsman.—"Seldom has a more effective, first appearance been made in fiction.....The book is of absorbing interest from beginning to end."

Morning Post.—"Not merely extremely amusing, but distinguished by much originality and cleverness both in devising a plot and in delineating her characters."

The GARDEN at MONKHOLME. By ANNIE

ARMITT. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

Athenaeum.—"Truly excellent in power of analysis and interest is 'The Garden at Monkholme.' The plot, though it faintly reminds one of 'Enoch Arden,' is in reality not at all the same. There is a quiet power and pathos about the tale that is attractive."

Scotsman.—"A novel of exceptional merit and charm....The novel is one to read slowly and think over, and of which many readers will long retain a tender recollection."

Sunday Times.—"As regards both construction and conception, 'The Garden at Monkholme' is a delightful novel. There is a quaint and indescribable charm about the book, which makes the reader loth to quit the scenes it pictures."

Standard.—"A very good story."

A MOUNTAIN DAISY. By EMILY GRACE

HARDING. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

Scotsman.—"It is impossible to read 'A Mountain Daisy' without enjoyment."

A TANTALUS CUP. By Mrs. HARRY BENNETT

EDWARDS. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

Scotsman.—"It is written with very considerable narrative and descriptive power."

Athenaeum.—"Pathetic enough to be read from beginning to end."

Queen.—"A feeling of sincere gratitude possesses us when we find a first essay in fiction free from the manifold errors of omission and commission which usually bristle on every page."

CUPID and the SPHINX. By HARFORD FLEMING.

3 vols. 31s. 6d.

Academy.—"At once recalls 'A Nile Novel' to mind. Like that clever story, it is of American authorship, and its scene lies chiefly in Egypt, while its characters are Europeans and Americans."

Athenaeum.—"There is much freshness about 'Cupid and the Sphinx.' Though Cairo and the Nile are not quite new ground, they have not much been used by novelists, and Mr. Fleming shows that there is much to be made out of them.... When he can also write with vigour and good taste, as Mr. Fleming does, it follows that his book must have no small merit."

The LADY of TREFERNE. By HARRIET S.

HILL. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

Scotsman.—"Very good work indeed, not merely because of its intrinsic excellence, but also from the many signs it bears of care and thought in the workmanship. Its main subject has often been handled in fiction, but seldom with more of freshness or truth than in this book. The tale has numerous side episodes, each with its own independent thread of interest; and one great charm of it arises from the skill and conscientious finish with which the numerous personages are individualised and portrayed."

EDGAR PEMBERTON, Author of "Dickens's London," "A Very Old Question," &amp;c. Crown 8vo, 5s. 6d.

Athenaeum.—"There is a fair amount of interest, and no little humour. As a light, bright, and short novel, 'Born to Blush Unseen' possesses considerable merit."

PHIL'S MOTHER, and other Stories.

By the Author of "The Wynnes," "Aggreden Vicarage," "Regent Rosalind," &amp;c. Crown 8vo, 5s.

Athenaeum.—"Containing quiet home pictures, by sermons, without seeming to teach, pure and full of human interest. 'Phil's Mother' ought to be both improving and attractive to young people."

Academy.—"Phil's Mother, and the two other short tales in the same volume, are quiet, refined, carefully finished pieces of Miss Yonge's school, though with a marked individuality of their own; and are much above the ordinary level of minor fiction."

The BROKEN TRYST. By Maxwell

GREY. Crown 8vo, 7s. 6d.

Athenaeum.—"The primary object of a novel is to amuse or interest, and 'The Broken Tryst' is interesting."

Court Circular.—"A distinctly interesting story..... The story is told smoothly and well, and holds the reader's interest from the first page to the last."

POPPELWAGS. By Chrome. In

ornamental cover, 2s. 6d.

Academy.—"A very readable and inoffensive little story."

AT the ELEVENTH HOUR: a Story.

By AUSTYN GRAHAM. Crown 8vo, 7s. 6d.

The HOUSE of ACHENDAROCK;

or, an Old Maid's Love-Story. By M. EMILY CAMERON. Crown 8vo, 7s. 6d.

Athenaeum.—"Will be appreciated by those who are at all familiar with the country and people she describes..... Many minor characters are well described, but Mary Hamilton herself is a truly womanly portrait, and would alone go far to redeem a less artistically skilful story than the present."

Academy.—"Miss Cameron is not yet a mistress of her craft, but in her selection of a long career of very ordinary failure for her subject, and in her details of the minute ways and oddities of country life, she has in some sort fallen on the track of the greatest of living novelists."
